05 Applications for doctoral programme at Gran Sasso Science Insitute \(GSSI\) now open

Applications are now open for admission to the doctoral school of Gran Sasso Science Institute (GSSI) in Italy.

GSSI is offering full scholarships for doctoral degrees in four fields of study including Urban Studies. The PhD in Urban Studies will focus on the study of the trajectories of long term development of local systems, and in particular, urban systems - cities, metropolitan areas and regions. The PhD degree will be issued by the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna of Pisa, with the mention of the course of study completed at GSSI.

Successful candidates will receive a full scholarship, including accommodation and meal vouchers.

Applications close on 15 July 2013, at 18:00 (Italian time).

Please see GSSI website and Programme Information sheet for more information including application details.
